Math

The students will have a short review on money, and then we will begin our discussion on geometric shapes. The students will be able to identify all the different shapes, and their properties.

Reading

The students will be reading Theme 5: Poetry

We will continue discussing the different types of poetry and writing our own poetry. This students will read poems and try to comprehend meaning and main idea. Additionally, students will be getting short stories to review other concepts.

Teacher's Corner

Dear Parents,

The month of February is Black History Month. I am having the students make a timeline of important events within Black History, to prepare them for the Black History Bowl.

Thanks,
Mr. Zebro

Writing

Students will be keeping a daily journal. Our journal should follow our theme, with some free writing. During our theme the students will be writing poems using the different techniques they have been reading about.

Science

SW discuss Chapter 4: Living Things

Students will be finishing our discussing about the difference between living and non-living things. Students will be writing about what they need to do to keep their plants alive.
